9. Compensation Received by BCR

BCR may charge its clients fees or commissions for opening/holding/closing positions on BCR's products. The calculation of the price to be paid (or the payout to be received) for products offered by BCR at the time the contract is closed (either bought or sold) will be based on BCR's best estimate of market prices and the expected level of interest rates, implied volatilities and other market conditions during the life of the financial contract. A full description of the amounts we charge and when they will be charged can be found in BCR's legal documents.

Margin Requirement - The margin requirement is the initial amount of funds that are required to be in your account to open a trading position. The amount required to be in your account may be expressed as a ratio or percentage of the contract value or may be expressed as a multiple of the number of contracts. The margin requirements vary from market to market and are listed under the CFD information tab on the BCR website and are also available upon request from one of our dealers.

Spreads - BCR earns its income from the bid/ask spreads that are embedded in the price quotes on the BCR Trader platform (BCR Trader). The Spread is the difference between the Bid and Ask price at which you buy and sell CFDs. You may incur a mark-up within the spread depending on various factors, including rebates agreements, currency pair, market conditions, size of the trade, and prevailing market rates.

Swap Rates (Rollover) - You may also be charged or credited a “Swap Fee” for holding CFDs overnight with BCR. These fees will vary from day to day and product to product.

Referring Party Payments - We may enter into arrangements with third parties, such as Referring Parties, who may introduce you to us, or with white label partners, who may provide our services to you through their own brand. A Referring Party, who refers a client to us, may be compensated by us from our income received on trading. Compensation paid to a Referring Party may be based on the volume of the Referring Party's client trading volume.

Where your business has been referred to us by a Referral Party, we may be required to share a percentage of the commission or other charge with the Referring Party. Where the conflicted remuneration provisions apply, any such payment to third parties will only be made with your consent in advance and you're entitled to receive full details regarding any such payments upon written request.

- Rebates - BCR may compensate a Referring Party for referring clients to BCR and such compensation may be on a per-trade basis or other method upon BCR's discretion.
- Commission – The amount of commission paid to a Referring Party is negotiated on an individual basis and the commission paid to Referring Parties varies. All clients will be asked to agree to commission charges prior to any such commissions being charged, via a commissions consent form.

Commissions on CFD Trades – In addition to possible commission paid to a Referring Party, there is a commission is charged on certain CFD trades as a flat fee per lot. If we charge commissions on your trading account, it will be reflected when you place a trade. The amount of commission charged will vary based on the currency of your account and will increase/decrease in proportion to the size of the contract traded.

Funds on Deposit - We do not pay interest to clients on money held by us in a separate account or on money paid to us as margin. This may be regarded as a cost, as you will have lost the opportunity to obtain interest (or some other return) on that money elsewhere.

Taxes – You are responsible for any stamp duty, transaction duty, GST or similar goods and services or value added tax payable in respect of services provided to you by BCR.

When you enter into transaction you will be required to pay an initial margin. You may also be required to pay additional margin in the event of adverse market movements against your position(s). Such payments are not fees or costs but are funds required by BCR to cover our risk and as security for the client's obligations.

10. Administrative Fees

Generally, BCR does not charge its clients administrative fees. However, in the case of a client making an international bank transfer and/or requesting the payment of funds to be processed on the same day, then BCR reserves the right to charge clients for these additional services. The fee for an international bank transfer will not normally be more than $20 and the fee for the payment of funds to be processed on the same day will not normally be more than $15.

11. Remuneration

Our employees are remunerated by way of salary and other employee benefits. They may also be eligible for a discretionary bonus which is based on achievement of predetermined business objectives such as meeting or exceeding standards of excellence in client service.

Please note that certain types of remuneration rewarded to our employees may be benefits given by our clients in relation to the issue or sale of a financial product by BCR, which include benefits that have been authorised by the client with their clear consent.

12. Risk of Trading BCR's Products

You should carefully consider whether trading in Products is appropriate for you in the light of your financial circumstances.

In deciding whether or not you wish to become involved in trading in Products with BCR, you should be aware that Products are speculative products. CFDs are highly leveraged and carry significantly greater risk than non-leveraged investments such as share trading, and you could both gain and lose large amounts of money. In certain circumstances, BCR may exercise its discretion to close out your position.

You should not invest in Products unless you understand and are comfortable with the risks of trading in Products. You should refer to the relevant section of each respective BCR Product for further details.
